

An aerial photograph of a city, likely St. Gallen, Switzerland, situated on the edge of a large body of water (Lake St. Gallen). The city features a dense urban core with many red-roofed buildings. To the left of the city is a large, flat area that appears to be an airport or a large industrial/warehouse complex. The water in the foreground is a deep blue, while the water closer to the city is a lighter, greenish-blue. The sky is filled with white clouds. The text 'STADT | RAUM | STRUKTUR' is overlaid in large white letters, and 'THESEN FÜR DEN BODENSEERAUM' is overlaid in smaller white letters below it.
